

CANADIAN ADDENDUM TO BAXTER GLOBAL PRIVACY POLICY

Pursuant to Article 11.0 of the Baxter Global Privacy Policy, this addendum adopts country specific privacy policy provisions to reflect the privacy laws that apply to Baxter in Canada.

D. POLICY

1.0 Management

Within Canada, the applicable legislation includes the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (“PIPEDA”), the Alberta Personal Information Protection Act, the British Columbia Personal Information Protection Act, the Alberta Health Information Act, the Saskatchewan Health Information Protection Act, the Manitoba Personal Health Information Act, the Ontario Personal Health Information Protection Act, An Act Respecting the Protection of Personal Information in the Private Sector (Quebec), the New Brunswick Personal Health Information Privacy and Access Act, and the Newfoundland and Labrador Personal Health Information Act. As well, each of the provinces and territories has public sector privacy legislation that may govern public health care facilities, health authorities and hospitals that may be applicable. Baxter complies with this framework of privacy legislation in its interaction and communication with patients, health care professionals, employees and others, to the extent the legislation is applicable.

2.0 Notice

In Canada, Baxter collects, uses and discloses personal information for the following purposes:

- To confirm identity;
- To confirm the individual’s health needs;
- To determine the suitability of Baxter’s products and health services;
- To set up, manage and offer Baxter’s products and health services;
- To provide ongoing service, and to ensure timely and accurate delivery;
- To provide equipment support;
- To obtain payment for products and health services;
- To assist in keeping patient health records current and accurate;
- To conduct research;
- To satisfy legal and regulatory requirements including responding to a court order, search warrant or other demand or request that Baxter believes to be valid, or to comply with the rules of production of a court;
- To prevent, detect or limit fraud (including abuse of health service) or criminal activity, or to manage and settle any actual or potential loss in connection with fraud or criminal activity.

3.0 Choice and Consent

Individuals may withdraw consent for identified purposes, subject to legal and contractual restrictions and reasonable notice.

6.0 Access

In Canada, individuals may make access or correction requests by directing the requests to the following:

Local Privacy Officer
Baxter Corporation
7125 Mississauga Road
Mississauga, Ontario L5N 0C2
905 368-6000 / 1 800 387-8399

Depending on the applicable privacy legislation, there are exceptions that allow Baxter to exercise discretion not to provide access to personal information or require Baxter to deny access to personal information. Where Baxter is not able to give access to the personal information, Baxter will provide an explanation as to the reasons under the applicable privacy legislation.

7.0 Disclosure and Onward Transfer

Some of the organizations or entities to which Baxter discloses your personal information are located outside of Canada. Individuals may obtain access to written information about our policies and practices with respect to the use of service providers to Baxter outside of Canada by contacting Baxter Canada's Local Privacy officer at the above address or phone number. Where personal information is located outside of Canada, it may be subject to lawful access requirements of the country in which the personal information is being stored.

13.0 Exceptions

Baxter may collect, use or disclose personal information without consent in Canada as allowed or required by applicable privacy legislation.
